We will only keep your personal data for the purposes set out in this privacy policy. We will retain and use your personal data to the extent necessary to comply with our legal obligations (for example, if we are required to retain your data to comply with applicable laws), resolve disputes and enforce our legal agreements and policies. We will also keep usage data for internal analysis. Usage data is generally retained for a shorter period of time, except when the data is used to enhance security or enhance the functionality of our service and offer, or we are legally required to retain this data for longer periods of time. THIRD ADSWe use a third-party provider to place our internet ads. The supplier can collect anonymous information about your visits to our site and your interaction with our products and services. The provider can also use information about your visits to this site and others to target for goods and services. This anonymous information is collected through the use of a pixel tag, which is the industry standard technology used by most major websites. No personally identifiable information is collected or used in this process. The provider does not know your first name and surname, address, phone number, email address or any of your other personally identifiable information. If you want more information about this practice and your option not to have this anonymous information used by our third-party provider, Here. SECURITY We use a variety of technologies and processes to protect your information. Information such as your credit or debit card account number is transmitted via a secure server using Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) encryption technology. The security of your data is important to us, but remember that no method of transmission over the Internet, or method of electronic storage is 100% secure. While we strive to use commercially acceptable means to protect your personal data, absolute security can never be guaranteed. We will never request your credit card or other personal information by email. If you receive an email that appears to be a request for our personal information, do not respond, as it may be a phishing scam designed to steal your information. Never include your credit or debit card number or other sensitive information in an email as it is not a safe way to transmit information. We will only share this information during secure transactions on our website or through our customer service team. It is your responsibility to protect any passwords you create to access My Account and to dedicate yourself when your visit is over. We will only use the personal information provided in a verifiable consumer request to verify the identity or authority of the applicant to make the application. How to apply for an opt-out If you are 16 years of age or older, you have the right to ask us not to sell your personal information at any time (the right to withdraw). We do not sell the personal information of consumers that we actually know is older 16 years, unless we receive an affirmative authorization (the right to opt) either from the consumer who is at least 13 years old but not yet 16 years old, or from the parent or guardian of a consumer under the age of 13. We do not collect or share information about under-13s. Consumers who choose to sell personal information can opt out of future sales at any time. We do not sell your information to third parties for money. When we provide information to the competition co-authors, the promotions or to reputable companies whose products are of interest, this constitutes a sale under the CCPA and you have the right to withdraw. To exercise the right to opt, you (or your authorized representative) can email us to optout@bostonproper.com Opt OutOnce you apply for an opt-out, we will wait at least twelve (12) months before asking you to reauthorize the sale of personal information. However, you can change your mind and return to selling personal information at any time by contacting our customer service team at 1.800.243.4300 or customerservice@bostonproper.com. You do not need to create an account with us to exercise your opt-out rights. We will only use the personal information provided in an opt-out request to review and comply with the request. We will try to respond to your request within forty-five (45) days of receiving it. If we need more time (up to 90 days), we will inform you of the reason and the extension period in writing. We will provide you with our written response by mail or electronically, at your choice. Any disclosure we provide will only cover the 12-month period prior to the verifiable receipt of consumer demand. The response we provide will also explain why we cannot comply with a request, if any. For data portability requests, we will select a format to provide your personal information that is easily usable and that should allow you to transmit information from one entity to another entity unimpeded, especially through email communication. We do not charge a fee to process or respond to your verifiable consumer request unless it is excessive, repetitive or manifestly unfounded. If we determine that the application warrants a fee, we will tell you why we made this decision and will provide you with an estimate of the costs before you complete your application. Non-discriminationWe will not discriminate against you for exercising any of your CCPA rights. Unless the CCPA allows, we will not deny you goods or services. Charge you different prices or rates for goods or services, including discounts or other benefits, or penalties. Offer yourself a different level or quality of goods or services. Suggest that you may receive a different price or rate for goods or services or a different level or quality of goods or services. However, we may offer you certain financial incentives allowed by the CCPA that may result in different prices, rates or quality levels. All the CACP's authorized financial information that we offer will be reasonably related to the value of your personal information and will contain written terms that describe important aspects of the program. Participation in a financial incentive program requires your prior consent, which you can revoke at any time. Other Privacy Rights in CaliforniaThe California Shine the Light Act (Civil Code Section - 1798.83) allows users of our website who are California residents to request certain information regarding our disclosure of third parties for direct marketing purposes. To make such a request, please email customerservice@bostonproper.com. Your Nevada Privacy RightsNevada Act (SB 220) allows Nevada customers to opt out of the sale of certain types of personal information. A sale under Nevada law is the transfer of that personal information to third parties for monetary purposes so that those third parties can then resell or authorize the information sold. We do not sell your personal information to third parties as defined by Nevada law. If you are a Nevada resident and wish to opt out of the sale of your personal information if we change our practices in the future, you must email customerservice@bostonproper.com.POLICY CHANGESIf our privacy policy changes, we will post changes to our site on the review date. Your continued use of our site will be your agreement with our revised privacy policy. Please also note that our privacy policy is integrated with the terms of use of our site.
